Voices: It's that time of year again

Annual Go Arts! Go Karts! race set Friday night

By Mark Fauser, executive director, Community School of the Arts

Published: Sunday, May 17, 2009 2:00 AM EDT

Community School of the Arts would like to thank all of the corporate sponsors, race sponsors and racers for this year's Go Arts! Go Karts! race, set for 5 p.m. Friday at "CSA Raceway" across from Ballard Field. There will be great food, bungee jumping, the Smile Seeker clowns, ponies and a petting zoo, rock wall, moonwalk, lots of fun and live performances. Of course, the main event of the evening is the big race.

Who will put their name on the most prestigious cup in Grant County?

- Last year's champion: Modern Machine and Tool.
- 2008 champ: Reese Motors.
- 2007 champ: Bright House Networks.
- 2006 champ: The Icehouse.
- 2005 champ: Fire department.

A majority of the money has already been collected for this event, but like always our job is just beginning. CSA is all about giving back and putting on a massive show and thanking the community for its generosity. This is your chance to shine, create a character, talk smack, promote your business and just have a fun time with your friends from Grant County.

The race and CSA doesn't work without the massive support of the people behind the scenes, who simply don't get the credit they deserve. This is one of the hardest working boards I have ever met. I appreciate all that they do for CSA and the community and ask that you thank them for their service. Those people include Michael Belcher, president of the board (twice), Lori Eltzroth, Dr. David Moore, Darren Reese, Linda Earnest, Raphael McAbee-Reher, Amy Pinkerton, Dev Srikanth, Rene Miller, Dave Rees, Ruthann, Marty Harker and a special thanks to our co-chairwomen of the race — Dawn Darga and Carol Hamilton.

These wonderful multi-taskers, along with all the past board members, staff, teachers and volunteers, are why CSA is what it is. I ask you to thank them for the massive hours of service they give to our kids and community and come out and celebrate with us at the Go Arts! Go Karts! race and festival this at 5 p.m. Friday.
